Teaching Timeless Principles

Interactive, dynamic and life-changing class

The Leadership Program of the Rockies "LPR" equips emerging leaders in the timeless principles so they can become leaders in action.

LPR graduates become a force for the timeless principles we cherish -- impacting as local and national elected officials, top state leaders, federal judges, presidential cabinet members, and prominent movers in the arenas of political process, policy change, media, business and education.

LPR graduates complete nine full-day interactive and challenging sessions. Each class is limited to sixty-five high-caliber students and led by an elite team of local and national leaders/experts. LEARN MORE...
